SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM

WELCOME TO

IJCR Global Summit 2026

Multimedica – Sesto San Giovanni Hospital, Milan, Italy

April 16–18, 2026

Dear Colleagues, Students, and Esteemed Guests,

We are pleased to welcome you to the IJCR Global Summit 2026 in Milan, Italy.

The IJCR Global Summit is an international multidisciplinary academic platform that brings together students, residents, researchers, and senior clinicians from around the world to foster structured academic dialogue, encourage cross-specialty collaboration, and advance clinical innovation.

The 2026 edition is structured across three academic days:

- April 16th & 17th - Interdisciplinary Approach to Cancer, featuring multidisciplinary oncology sessions, international faculty lectures, research abstract presentations, hands-on workshops, CPD-accredited certification, and structured networking opportunities.
- April 18th - IJCR Plastic & Reconstructive Surgery Specialist Conference, dedicated to advanced surgical and reconstructive topics and open to all registered participants.

The summit aims to provide a focused academic environment where participants can engage in scientific discussion, present research, develop practical and professional skills, build meaningful international academic connections.

We are proud to host this year's summit at Multimedica – Sesto San Giovanni Hospital, a distinguished academic institution reflecting our commitment to excellence and global collaboration.

We look forward to welcoming you to Milan for three days of scientific exchange, practical learning, and professional growth.

Attendance & Certificate Guidelines

Workshops

Each participant will attend two hands-on workshops, included in their registration.

Workshop schedules and exact timings will be communicated to registered participants prior to the conference.

CPD Accreditation & Certificates

CPD points will be issued during the conference.

To be eligible for CPD accreditation, participants must attend all lectures and scientific sessions scheduled on their assigned day, as well as both assigned workshops.

CPD verification is completed by scanning the official QR code displayed at the end of each conference day during the designated check-out session. Please note that the QR code is only available during the conference and cannot be accessed afterward.

IJCR Certificates of Attendance will be issued electronically after the conference to participants who have successfully completed the required attendance verification process.

IJCR Plastic & Reconstructive Surgery Specialist Conference

The IJCR Plastic & Reconstructive Surgery Specialist Conference will take place on April 18, 2026 (Day 3).

- Attendance is open and complimentary for all registered participants of the IJCR Global Summit
- Participation is independent of assigned workshop days
- Participants may attend regardless of their workshop allocation
